JAYCEES HEAR FINE ADDRESS ON CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND

"If There Is Anything Canada Needs In England It's Publicity"—Club Will Handle Booster Ticket Sale For Peach Kings—Holding Dance At Village Inn.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting, unanimously voted on Monday night for their monthly dinner meeting, to assist the Peach King Hockey Club, by taking over an organized sale of the booster tickets now being offered to the public. The tickets, costing one dollar, entitle the holder to admission to the first league game on Grimsby ice, and two chances on a fifty dollar bond.

Four teams were set up to handle the sale of the booster tickets, with four captains named to head the teams. The captains named were Blake Marlow, Bernie Chudryk, Morris Flett and Fred May. Gord McGregor was named chairman of the ticket committee.

METER OPPONENTS CAN STOP THEIR WORRYING

Mayer Lewis States That Parking Machines Will Not Be Installed Until Main Street Is Widened.

Opponents of the idea of installing parking meters in Grimsby need not worry about the matter until next spring at least.

Last winter it looked like meters would be installed, but the idea of widening Main Street came in the way, also the question of just how far the Ontario Department of Highways would go in giving assistance in the widening of the street. The matter was left by council in the hands of Mayor Lewis and he, after several conferences informed the council that

NEW MILITARY ARMORY IS BEING BUILT HERE

Grimsby is to be The Home of "A" Company, Lincoln and Welland Regiment—Former Trade School Theatre.

The Town of Grimsby will soon be the home of "A" Company of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment, whose history dates far back into the annals of this Dominion of Canada. The Company will have at its disposal a good sized building, suitable for use as a parade room, with adjoining offices. An officers mess, as well as a mess for other ranks is also likely to come into being.

It was in 1938, when Major L. A. Bromley was the officer commanding of "B" Company which held forth in Grimsby from the early thirties, with a strength of around one hundred men, that the Regiment closed the Companies in the smaller towns, "B" Company going from Grimsby to Niagara Falls.

REEVE AIKENS WAS REALLY UP IN THE AIR

Reeve John Aikens of North Grimsby was really up in the air on Sunday afternoon.

The Reeve was a member of a large party of members of various Optimist clubs in the Niagara Peninsula who went to Buffalo where they had chartered a large transport plane to take them aloft where they conducted a business meeting.

The meeting was carried out in the customary routine of the Optimist clubs with a presiding officer conducting proceedings and a secretary recording the minutes of the session.

THE LITTLE COUNTRY HOSPITAL

The little country hospital is hidden out of view And the people seldom notice it as pleasure they pursue, But let an accident befall—which is the fate of men— The proudest man is glad to see the small town doctor then And in that little hospital which humble folk maintain He'll find that hearts are merciful and quick to comfort pain; It isn't like the city place, with sections blocked apart, Where every patient's listed as a number on a chart, And Specialists for this and that convene to thumb him o'er And ask a thousand questions of the ill he's had before, For in the country hospital, which lacks all pomp and style, The surgeon in his morning round has time to chat a while, And whether pain be in your groin, your stomach or your toe, The cause of it the doctor there assuredly will know, He will not hunt you round the place for rays of that and this, He'll diagnose your case himself and very seldom miss, And whoso'er shall tread the hall when you are free from pain Will stop to speak a cheery word and wish you well again, So little country hospital, which humble folk support, Which struggle for existence since its funds are always short I pay this simple tribute now to all your tender care In lessening the hurts and pains which mortals have to bear, And pray for God's richest blessing on the men and women brave Who give their every ounce of strength another's life to save.

BELL TELEPHONE AND THE INDEPENDENT GIRDLE THE EARTH

JAMES O. LIVINGSTON
Editor, The Grimsby Independent

"We are a newspaper... a community service." The Grimsby Independent's motto is simple and direct. It is the motto of a newspaper that has been in existence for over 50 years. It is the motto of a newspaper that has been a part of the community's life for over 50 years.

It is the motto of a newspaper that has been a part of the community's life for over 50 years. It is the motto of a newspaper that has been a part of the community's life for over 50 years.

The above illustration is a reproduction of an advertisement of The Bell Telephone Co., as it appeared in the September issue of The Canadian Weekly Editor, Vancouver, B.C., the official trade paper of The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association. Immediately that this advertisement appeared The Independent wired The Weekly Editor for a "Mat" from which we cast the above plate. In writing to the Editor of The Independent, Dean Miller, Editor and Manager of The Weekly Editor said in part...

"We were delighted when we saw that you and your paper had been singled out for this Bell series and I think you are to be commended for planning on featuring this in your own paper. This is the first time any weeklies thus featured in the Bell series have requested the ad... and your plan to front page it strikes me as being mighty good public relations community-wise. May we add our congratulations to those of your fellow editors for the distinctive community service you render Grimsby as so fittingly recognized in this Bell Telephone Company advertisement. We know that the telephone company has been highly selective in choosing weekly editors for this series."

Working for Grimsby

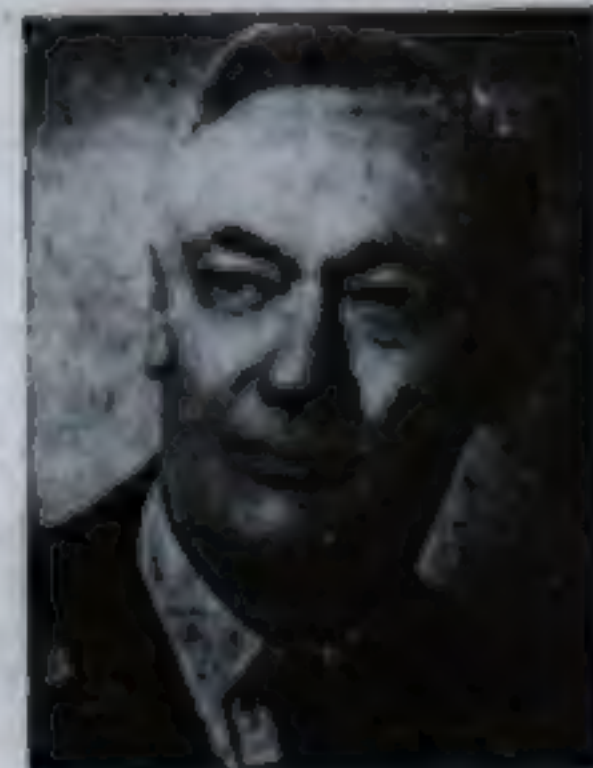

Grimsby is fortunate in having a weekly paper as active as "The Independent" in the work and life of the community.

Editor Livingston's newspaper supplies a definite need in communications for the district in which it serves. Through the printed word it carries the news which is a vital part of business and social life.

The Bell Telephone lines supply another communications need; by means of the spoken word they convey the urgent daily messages of Grimsby. On and off the job, Bell Manager Hugh Stewart and Editor James O. Livingston, are working for the community.

The public has learned to depend on the services of these two men, simply because their work, printed and spoken communication, is devoted to service and the two are complementary. The telephone is one of the editor's indispensable tools, and the Bell manager is well aware of the power of the printed word. He, like all Bell managers, tries to provide all the news about the telephone when it is timely, and in proper news style. Whenever it happens, telephone news is local news.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

HUGH T. STEWART
Bell Telephone Manager for Grimsby, Southwold, and Wainfleet

A native of Wainfleet, Ontario, Hugh T. Stewart joined the Bell Company at Peterborough in 1911. He has held positions as manager at Collingwood, North Bay, and Wainfleet.

Mr. Stewart is an active member of the Grimsby Lions Club and the Grimsby Rotary Club, and is a member of the community.

In Grimsby, the editor and the Bell manager are not only neighbors, but are quite a bit of each other over the back fence.

Recently Mr. Livingston told Mr. Stewart that he was "the best and of little else" in the world, a statement which certainly makes the Bell manager of this pride.

CANADIAN CANNERS OPERATE 66 PRESERVING FACTORIES

Fifty-Four Are In Ontario—Have Several Subsidiary Companies Of A Different Nature—Operations For The Year Ended February 28, 1949, Showed Profit Of $1,459,850.

Canadian Canners Ltd. is engaged in the canning of fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies, catsup, meats, soups, etc., which are sold under the trade name of "Aylmer". The company is the largest of its kind in the British Empire.

Operating 64 canning and preserving factories in Ontario, 3 in Quebec, 8 in B.C., and 1 in Nova Scotia, the company also owns and operates farms in Ontario and a research laboratory at Hamilton and subsidiary companies which supply boxes for the factories and needs for the farms. A new plant is being built at Penicton, B.C., and the pickle plant at Watford is being rebuilt.

Operations for the year ended Feb. 28, 1949, resulted in a net profit of $1,459,850 ($1,608,300). The decline, due to higher cost and to competition on certain products, was partly offset by lower taxes. Earnings per share amounted to $7.66 on the first preferred stock, $4.20 on the second preferred and $4.50 on the common, after participation in 1948-49, against $3.91, $5.04 and $6.01 respectively in previous years.

Production in 1948 was heavier than anticipated at the beginning of the season, due partly to the unprecedented production of apples and tomato products. Domestic sales were at a high level, but all sales were down due to the decline of export sales. The South African market was closed in Nov., and the remaining export outlets are highly competitive and do not absorb a large volume. There was no improvement in the British market. Inventory was substantially higher due to heavier production of certain lines and the tendency of the trade to buy on a month-to-month basis, thus causing (Continued on Page 11)

BEAMSVILLE'S SILVER MUG GOES TO WINONA

The new West Lincoln Memorial Hospital is open. Precisely at 4.30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon last, November 3rd, the portals opened wide and the first patient entered. She was Mrs. Eugene Hamilton of Winona, and at 11.15 that night she gave birth to a baby girl. The little cherub was brought into this world, the first in the new hospital, by Dr. N. S. Bowers, of Grimsby and the attending nurse was Miss Jean Graham.

To this first child born in the new hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Reid of Beamsville will present a silver mug suitably engraved.

FINED IN ABSENTIA

A Hamilton man who failed to appear in court after being summoned twice, was found guilty in absentia Tuesday on a charge of speeding in the town of Grimsby. Chief William James told the court that he had clocked Bob L. Haley, of 23 Reid Avenue, Hamilton, at 45 miles per hour, in the 30 m.p.h. zone of Grimsby. A fine of $21 including costs was imposed on Haley.

CONSIDER OPEN DEER SEASON IN LINCOLN COUNTY TOWNSHIPS

It Is Estimated That There Are Over 500 Deer In The Niagara Peninsula—60 Of Them Seen In One Herd—Many Are Rescued From Hydro Canal.

Deer are becoming as plentiful in the Niagara district that one township council is considering holding an open season. Caledon township council Monday night will decide if they will permit deer hunting Nov. 21, 3 and 23.

County Game Overseer Roy Arbuthnot said this week, that he understood a resident of the township had written to the department of lands and forests reporting a large population of deer in the area, and suggesting that hunters be permitted to shoot them. The department decided to open the season on the above dates, subject to approval of the local officials.

"I would estimate that in the whole Niagara Peninsula there would be about 500 deer," said Mr. Arbuthnot. "At Rockway they have a runway across the country road, and during the summer you could see a herd of five or six crossing the road nearly every evening." Rockway is five miles southwest of St. Catharines.

He said that Roy Muma, Welland County game warden, had seen one herd of 60 deer in a field near Chippawa last February. In the district a doe has been captured with cubs all summer, and Mr. Muma is worried what she'll do when the cubs are brought into the barn for the winter.

A year ago, dozens of deer fell into the Hydro canal above the Queenston power house and had to be rescued from the forebay at the very entrance to the penstocks. It was believed that they had been chased by dogs, and plunged into the water when they thought the canal was just a ditch and tried unsuccessfully to leap across it. But fences have been built along the banks and few deer have been caught in the eddies this year. A big buck, rescued a month ago (Continued on Page 11)

DEDICATED TO HARRIS MOTORS THERE NEVER WAS A CAR LIKE FAMOUS OLD MODEL 'T' FORD

(Hugh Tomlin in the Fergus News-Record)

The Elora Express advertised an auction sale in Alma. Among the objects for sale was a Model T Ford. The advertisement says, "Model T Ford, special model, leather upholstery, wire wheels, all good tires, in fair state of repair."

We're not thinking of buying it, not even as an antique. There was a Model T in the Tomlin family once. And once was enough. This was the famous old car that was said to have introduced "motoring to the millions," or was it "millions to the motoring?" It doesn't matter. It is sufficient to say there never was another car like it, and there never will be. And that is something to be thankful for on a hot day.

This was the car that made it Ford famous and rich. The Ford

DECORATION DAY PARADE

Canadian Legion And L.O.D.E. Decorate Graves Of Canadians Who Have "Gone West"—Wreaths Placed At Memorial Gates—Scrolls Of Service Men And Women Presented To Town And Township

Under threatening skies and with a chill in the air, West Lincoln branch 127 Canadian Legion held their annual decoration parade on Sunday afternoon to Queen's Lawn cemetery.

The parade, under the command of Col. G. R. Chetwynd, M. C. D. C. M., and led by the Beamsville Citizens band and the colour parties of the Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary marched to the Memorial gates at the entrance to the cemetery where wreaths were laid at the base of the columns for the Province of Ontario; Town of Grimsby; Township of North Grimsby; Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, L.O.D.E.; Grimsby Women's Institute; Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion; Grimsby Lions Club; Polish Alliance Friendly Society; Grimsby Optimist Club; Ukrainian Church; Ukrainian League; Grimsby Junior Chamber of Commerce; West Lincoln Branch of Canadian Legion. During the placing of the wreaths the band played a hymn.

In the cemetery the ladies of the L.O.D.E. assisted the Legion in decorating the graves of their comrades who had "Gone West," and now sleep in the Plot of Remembrance. Individual graves of departed veterans in Queen's Lawn and Old St. Andrew's Churchyard were also decorated. Rev. Neil Leckie briefly addressed the veterans and the citizens in attendance and led in prayer.

agent in Fergus, away back thirty years or more ago, used to say that everybody owned a Model T sooner or later. But only one, one was enough.

That was the old car that begot a million jokes, like this: "Why is a Ford car like a bath-tub?"

"Because everybody likes to own one but nobody wants to be seen in one!"

There were even songs about the Model T: "If she runs out of dope, just fill 'er up with soap. And the little Ford will sizzle right along."

The Model T hadn't much except a body and an engine. The body stood proudly, high above the ground.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY A COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

This is one of a series of articles submitted by the Children's Aid Society of the City of St. Catharines and the County of Lincoln. Our purpose is to further community understanding and interest in all programs dedicated to raising the standards of child and family life in our midst.

"BUT I DON'T WANT TO GO TO A FOSTER HOME!"

Any child who is separated from his parents for any cause needs considerable reassurance that he is wanted.

Death of a parent is, of course, a serious loss to a child. But if he has an early satisfying experience with his parents, it would help him to accept a placement relationship with his foster parents or adults in an institution. An increased number of children, however, have been coming into placement because their homes were broken through divorce, separation, desertion, or neglect. Placement to these children represents rejection of them by their parents. Furthermore, these children have been exposed to family frictions and hostilities, which have undermined their security long before placement became necessary. The loss of a parent through death can eventually be accepted by the child as an act of God though unconsciously the children are resentful of the parents' leaving them. The disruption of the family by living parents leaves a stigma which is difficult for a child to bear not only internally but also in explaining his peculiar situation to his peers. Regardless of the inadequacies of his home, it is a place he can call his own. Placement plans call for a change from the known to the unknown and are a threat to the child. The preparation of a youngster moving into the unknown calls for keen understanding of the child and skill in the helping process.

A very interesting illustration of parents' preparation of an eleven year old child for her first train trip was described in a recent magazine article. These parents were sensitive to the significance of the separation to the child and the importance of adequate preparation for this new experience. Because of the careful preparation, this child was able to proceed without her parents on her overnight journey without fear. Placement experience is, of course, much more harmful to a child than the temporary separation from loving parents for a brief excursion. The preparation of such children for their new experience is of tremendous importance.

The manner in which children will express their fear of placement will vary with different children. The following is an illustration of an adolescent girl's reaction to placement:

A girl of fifteen was referred to the Children's Aid Society for placement in a foster home. The reason for the referral and for the child's difficulties in her own home was made clear by the mother, who ended her interview with the child care worker with this statement:

It is a shame to say it, but I get so mad every time I look at that girl that I could strike her."

The girl began her interview by presenting a list of material demands of the agency. She expressed no dissatisfaction with her own home other than that her mother was poor and could not afford to provide her with nice clothes. If she could not have the allowance and clothes she wanted, there was no use in going to a foster home. The social worker sympathized with her desires, but indicated that the Children's Aid Society was governed by definite budgets which had to apply to her. The agency objective in placing children because they might be happier in foster homes was explained to her. With the worker's help the girl was able to say that she might be happier in a foster home but added:

"I'd like to talk some more to my mother; maybe she'll have some more ideas why I should or shouldn't be placed."

The child was apparently still hoping for acceptance by the mother and to avoid separation.

In subsequent contacts, she continued to make material demands, but the social worker maintained her position in relation to placement as defined by her agency. The girl was thus helped to face the real, though more painful, reason for need of placement. In the fifth interview, she came to terms with her fears of separation and said:

"I just don't get along with my mother. She always yells at me or me at her. I can't stay with her any longer. Any place would be better."

This child was afraid of placement and represented this fear and she presented her problem as she saw it. Her home was the known, and the known at the moment was more safe than the future with its uncertainties.

It was difficult for her to face her mother's rejection.

Not until she was sure of the worker's interest in and respect for her feelings and rights to decide about placement was she able to throw off her defences which the material demands presented.

Placement planning must be based on the understanding of the needs of the individual child. For some children individual care provided through foster home placement might be better, while for other children group care might be more suitable. Successful foster home placement is due in part to the natural ability of a child to use whatever is in himself and his environment to promote growth, and in part to the amazing ability of foster parents to take a child, even the most unattractive, in such a way that eventually the child feels he is a part of a family and begins to develop more normally because of it.

(Excerpts of an address by Leon H. Richman, Executive Director, Jewish Children's Bureau, Cleveland, Ohio).

PICKED WRONG TOWN

One of the most appalling crimes in World War II was crowded out of the news because it occurred only four days after the Allies had landed Normandy. On the morning of June 10, 1944, about 150 Nazi soldiers in trucks arrived in Oradour, France, formed themselves into three groups and went off to carry out the orders of their commandant. Without a word of explanation, one group lined up and shot 20 men inhabitants, another herded the 500 women, children and aged into the church, locked the doors and set fire to the building, while the third group burned down every home in the village. The next day the German commandant was asked why he had destroyed the innocent community of Oradour and murdered its entire population. And he, slightly embarrassed, replied that "he was sorry, he had made a mistake, it was the wrong town."

...well practically unanimous

YOU CAN still find people who "don't believe in banks" . . . who keep their cash in old coffee pots, or hide it in the woodpile, or carry it around.

But most folk nowadays keep their money in bank accounts. They can get it whenever they want it; and they can pay their bills by cheque. Canadians have more than seven million such deposit accounts. In terms of Canada's adult population, that makes it practically unanimous.

The banks, in turn, know they must earn this confidence by giving you the best service they know how.

Today you can take your account to any bank you choose. And what is in your bank book is strictly between you and your bank. It is your own private business.

THERE NEVER WAS

"You ride in another car: you ride on a Ford."

The Model T was popularly known as "Tin Lizzie." Its boy was neither beautiful nor built to modern safety standards. They used to tell about the farmer up near Arthur who had the galvanised iron roof blown off his barn. It was just a tangled mass of metal. Apparently it wasn't worth anything. But a neighbor suggested Henry Ford might pay something for it as scrap. So it was crated up and shipped to Detroit. A few days later, the local Ford agent drove up with a new Model T.

"Mr. Ford says that was the worst wreck of a Ford car he ever saw, so he's sent a new one."

There were no extras on the early Model T's. There was no storage battery. The lights ran directly from the magneto. The faster you drove, the brighter the lights. The darker the night the faster you had to drive to get light enough to see. There was lots of fun driving a Model T after dark. Probably that's why young couples got into a habit of parking a while on a dark road—not in search of excitement but simply to rest the nerves.

The original Model T's were touring cars with a top like a bug. They didn't make much speed so most owners drove with the top down. It was like a glorified buggy top and it took four people to put it up when a storm came along. By the time the top was up, the storm was likely to be over, and everyone was soaked to the skin. There were side curtains tucked away in the top and they were like shower curtains in a bath and let in considerable water. People who had a Model T did not need shower or baths.

There were no self-starters on the early models. Later, you could buy one for $85.00 extra. "You can do a lot of cranking for $85.00," the agents would say. But after a neighbour broke his wrist while cranking, the next few Fords would have starters.

The cranking of a Model T was quite a process. There was no bumper to get in the way. You lean down over the radiator (with no water pump) and caught hold of a piece of bent wire that worked the choke. You gave the crank a spin and at the same time you pulled the choke wire. There was a backfire and the crank flew out of your hand, spinning merrily backwards as you ducked out of the road. Then you remember that you hadn't adjusted the spark on the steering column, so you ran around and pushed it up. After a couple of more tries, the engine coughed a few times and once again you rushed around and pulled down the throttle and spark levers. If you had it timed properly, the engine kept on going.

Even after starters were standard equipment on Fords, the choke and the crank remained on the front. Bad boys at garden parties used to walk along in front of the Ford, pull out the choke wire and bend it down. It sometimes took half an hour to find out why the engines would run only a minute or two before stalling.

But the real characteristic part of the Model T was the transmission. There was no other car had anything like that, which was fortunate. We understand the heart of the apparatus was a planetary gear and it was operated by three pedals ranged in a row long the floor. The difficulty was that human beings have only two feet. It is necessary to play them like a pipe organ, with those who don't both in time and those who don't play the proper notes at the right time were apt to get into trouble indeed. The car would go into reverse instead of low, or it would be in low gear when the driver wanted to stop. The result was apt to be disastrous either way.

A Fergus merchant bought an early Model T and learned to drive. He planned to keep it in the basement of his store. He had heard about its peculiarities and he did not want it to smash into the stone wall because that would smash the headlights, two big brass lamps powered by acetylene. So he got a wooden box and placed it near the wall to take the shock if the car refused to stop. As expected, he got the wrong set of pedals. The car moved slowly ahead in low and hit the box, shoving the radiator back on the motor and the motor back into the wall. The Model T has plenty of power in low, but not much in high gear.

A farmer at Enniskillen proved the same thing in a different way. He drove into his barn and put his feet down. Half-way down on one pedal, all the way down on the other, put it in neutral. All the way down on one pedal put in low; all the way on a third pedal and half-way down another put it in reverse. The farmer pushed the two outside pedals all the way down. The car did not stop. He is said to have yelled "Whoo" with no results. The car continued on through the end wall of the barn and dropped on the soft manure pile. Neither car nor driver was much the worse. Those old cars were tough!

their drivers had to be.

There is still another peculiarity of the Model T which made it unique. Before it was cranked, the emergency brake had to be set half-way back, otherwise, the car was in gear. When we read of a Model T for sale, we think of one trip to Niagara Falls, a long journey in those far-off days, but the car was new. It was so new we had not learned all its bad habits. It stood in the park facing the river and Falls, ten or so feet from the edge of the cliff. We cranked it up and away it went. But it was in gear. We put a shoulder to the rail and yelled for help. A couple of huskies were nearby and they put their shoulder to the rail, on each side, and dug in their toes and the engine stalled. We took a look at the river and thanked them. Modern youngsters don't know much about cars do they?

NEW MILITARY ARMOURY

Central Command, armouries for the local Company which now totals approximately twenty officers and men, plans are going ahead, with Frontier Engineering moving a building from the former Trade School at Hamilton, which will be set up at its new location at the foot of Elizabeth Street. The frame structure, measuring 40 feet by 120 feet, was the camp theatre at the Trade School. It is owned by Mr. Naylon of Burlington, and will be leased to the Department of Works, who in turn will hand it over to the Department of National Defence who will maintain the armouries.

Major "Jim" Dandy and Sgt. Blake Marlow first took up the matter of establishing a Company here, and through their efforts, along with the efforts of others connected with the "Lince and Wines" it would now appear that Grimsby will again have a fine Company of this famous regiment. At the present time Major Dandy is the commanding officer, with Capt. A. A. Constable, 2nd in command; Lieutenant Nick Saunders, Sgt. Blake Marlow and Norm Warner comprising the balance of the staff.

Temporarily the Company is using the rooms above the Eaton Order Office, and parades are held on Tuesday and Thursday nights. The Company has about fifteen men now turning out on parade nights.

We're happy, 'cause the response to our dances has been so great, that we have moved to the Village Inn, thanks to the generous heart of our favorite gal—

MISS PEGGY O'NEIL

After our first dance... that was the Fall Frolic, the people raved about the music of

BRUCE ANTHONY

and the singing sensation

Marquis Thomas

... so it was inevitable that we bring them back for a repeat performance.

The braintrust got together and came up with the name

FROSTY FROLIC

which is going on as scheduled

Friday, November 11

at the famous

Village Inn

The best part about the whole thing is the price, just two dollars a couple, and a special rate of a buck and a half for high school students for whom we have a very special place in our hearts.

We know everyone is going to have a good time, and here's a tip... better make your table reservation right now.

See you Friday night.

IN REMEMBRANCE

Dear Heavenly Father,
Years are quickly passing, and today, when I'm many miles away from where their bodies lie, the thoughts of them and how they died in jungle, island beachheads and untidy graves at sea — our men, who died before their time, so others could be free — make me stop, and pray, and wonder if they sleep.
Lord, how are they faring, and have they understood? They were all so young, and loved their years so few, but had so little time to prepare themselves for you. How hard they fought, an drew much they wanted peace and calm. Have they found those things they died on sandy beaches or under shattered palm? And, Lord, I keep wondering if they sleep.
In Humble Supplication.

REGAL SATIN BALL GOWN

By ALICE ALDEN

It takes a master hand to produce the really fine ball gown, one of distinctive opulence yet devoid of ostentation. Norman Hartnell of London, designer of beautiful ball gowns for Queen Elizabeth and the two princesses, fashions this gala gown of dove grey satin. A fichu collar develops into two large pockets below the waist, and is embroidered in gray pearls in a Broderie Anglaise design. With it are worn matching gray satin gloves.

RANSAY — WEDDERBURN

Yellow pines and burnished oak leaves formed the decorations in the Mainconne Presbyterian Church on October 8th, at the marriage of Miss Marion Cumming Wedderburn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wedderburn, of Montreal, to Mr. Charles Stuart Ramsay, youngest son of Lieut. Colonel K. A. Ramsay, O.B.E., D.S.O., and Mrs. Ramsay, of Grimsby, Ontario.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle and satin, fashioned on simple lines, the fitted bodice having a tiny turned down collar, the sleeves ending in points over the hands and the full skirt falling into a short train. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a band of orange blossoms. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white roses and bouvardia.

Miss Helen MacArthur, as her only attendant, was wearing a frock of autumn yellow, also having a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore matching hat and mittens and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of Tallinn roses.

Mr. Douglas McAllister acted as best man for the groom with Mr. Gordon Ramsay, the bridegroom's brother and Mr. Ernest Hall as usher. Mrs. Allan Smith sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

A reception was held later in the La Salle Hotel. Following a wedding trip the couple took up residence in Montreal. Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. K. A. Ramsay of Grimsby, Mr. and Mrs. K. A. J. Ramsay, of Hamilton, and Mr. Gordon Ramsay, of Grimsby. Colonel Ramsay was unable to attend due to illness.

Assembly News

Grade 12's presentation of "Macbeth a la mode" was greeted with extreme enthusiasm by the entire school last Friday morning. Macbeth, "a stuck-up prig, in good old English, fool," played by Allen Bentley, conspired with Lady Macbeth, Grace McIntyre, "to win a place upon the football team." John Juras, King Duncan the football captain was drugged so that Macbeth could take his place. Gilbert Evans took the part of Banquo, Macbeth's servant. Macbeth's bitter enemy, Mike Macduff, was played by Peter "Phillips" Phelps. Marie Andrychuk took the part of Lady Macbeth's servant. Hecate, and Lennox and MacDonald were portrayed by John Mantel and Jim Nelson. Sandra Sims, Barbara Cole and Alina Klovak ably portrayed the three witches, while Gail Morton, and Joyce Dillon played the parts of frivolous Fanny and Mandy. As our narrator, Frances Stiffler, pointed out at the beginning of the play, this presentation paralleled Shakespeare's work, but in a much lighter manner to suit the modern mind.

Three cheers and a tiger for Miss Glave. Without her direction the play would not have been such a success.

Joke of the Week

Little Girl: "Daddy, why do editors refer to themselves as 'we'?"

Daddy: "So that the fellow who doesn't like what's printed will think that there are too many for him to lick."

William McFarlane

Anadi feels that the students of Grimsby High School should know more about "Bill" MacFarlane. He is the one who spends so much of his time in making our school so much more pleasant in which to do our work. Bill served overseas with the army in the last World War. He is married, and has three children. Besides his usual duties of keeping the school clean, he puts much time in shall we say, "extra curricular" work, such as fixing up the auditorium floor, the desks, etc., with paint, varnish, and polish. We have heard many visitors remark on the well kept appearance of our school.

Student Personality of the Week

It's said that everyone in this world has a double. The most perfect example of this that "Anadi" has found to date is our Elizabeth Taylor of 9B, Pearl Sims. Born in Wilkie, Saskatchewan, fifteen years ago, Pearl has lived in Grimsby for three and a half years. She possesses an enjoyable personality and is smart and pretty. The other kids think she is lots of fun.

HOW TO GET COCKEYED

When a person has been drinking steadily for hours, the muscles that draw his eyeballs outward are progressively weakened by the alcohol. Consequently, the drinker's eyes gradually converge and he actually does become "cockeyed" (cross-eyed).

WAR MEMORIAL TO BE UNVEILED ON SUNDAY

Stone Sun-Dial Bears The Names Of Twelve Members Of St. Andrew's Church Who Gave Their Lives During The 1939-1945 Struggle

The Rt. Rev. W. C. White, Assistant to the Bishop of Niagara will represent the R.T. Rev. Walter E. Bagnall, R.A., D.D. at the unveiling of the War Memorial at St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Bishop White will dedicate the Memorial Sun-Dial which bears the names of twelve men of the congregation who gave their lives during the second world war. The stone, which has been designed to fit in with the Cross of Sacrifice commemorating the men of the earlier struggle, is centred in the space in front of the Cross. It is a square shaft of stone measuring 18 inches and rising 3 ft. from the ground. The front surface bears the dates 1939 to 1945 and the following names:—

E. G. Barrow, R. E. Bertram, J. A. Carlton, J. Carlton, D. K. Griffith, D. R. Heathcote, E. Henley, A. L. Home, P. A. C. Maeder, W. D. Page, J. L. Powell, F. T. Woolverton.

On the flat top surface is set a bronze Sun-Dial. The Dial inscription which is cut in the stone is the text from Psalm 118: "From the Rising up of the Sun unto the Going down of the Same, the Lord's Name be Praised."

Bishop White will be assisted in the Ceremony by the Rector of St. Andrew's and the Ven. Archdeacon G. P. Scovill. Graves of Veterans in the Churchyard will be decorated by the Canadian Legion. Wreaths will be placed at the two memorials, and the names will be solemnly read.

Divine Service will follow in the Church at which Bishop White will preach.

THE COLONEL MUST BE GETTING HUNGRY

"If 'The Late Christopher Bean' isn't the best play the Grimsby Players' Guild ever presented, then I'll eat my Legion boot." So said Col. G. R. Chetwynd, Director of Production of the local Players' Guild yesterday.

"We have one week left," the colonel continued, "in which to polish the play to perfection. And by Thursday, the night of the first performance at the High School Auditorium, we should be ready to give the people of Grimsby one of the finest theatrical productions they've ever seen."

And the colonel wasn't kidding: If all goes well, "The Late Christopher Bean," the local group's first presentation of the new season, should compare favourably with anything they've ever put on. The cast, featuring such seasoned performers as Owen Patterson, Joy and Ed Mack, Shirley Heathcote, George Winklemeyer, Maile Culliford, Audrey Bowers and Gil Ryerson, has been well chosen by Director Molly Lucas. The play itself is one of the better comedies ever written and it was a terrific success on Broadway, and boasts one of the most hilarious plots ever contrived.

"The Late Christopher Bean" is the story of an art-ignorant small town doctor and his family, and how, after much confusion, they discover that some paintings which they had always thought worthless are suddenly worth thousands of dollars. They had been painted by a sickly artist whom the doctor had kept in his care many years before, and when he died he left his many paintings to the doctor and his family. They used some of them to repair the barn roof, and burned a great many more. Then they discover the canvases are worth a fortune. The action that follows, and the way it all ends is terrific comedy, and well worth seeing.

The dates again are Thursday and Friday, November 17th and 18th, Grimsby High School Auditorium. Curtains go up at 8.30.

Tickets for "The Late Christopher Bean" may be obtained at both Grimsby Drug Stores, 75 cents reserved and 50 cents general admission.

SCHOOL STUDENTS TO VIEW "HENRY FIFTH"

Considered one of the great experiences in the history of motion pictures, Sir Laurence Olivier's screen interpretation of "Henry V" will be shown at three special times at the Beam Theatre this Friday, November 11.

Olivier's interpretation of one of Shakespeare's immortal works is a masterpiece and of invaluable assistance to any teacher of English literature and drama. It is therefore only right that students from all of the district's high schools are planning on attending one of the three showings of Henry V this Friday at the Beam Theatre in Beamsville.

A matinee at 2 p.m. will be the first showing, followed by a second showing at 4.30 p.m. and a third at 8 p.m. Student rates will prevail at the evening showings as well as at the matinee.

BEACH WOLF CUBS

The Grimsby Beach Wolf Cubs enjoyed a busy and happy meeting on Friday afternoon in the Pack Den, at which time

Alexis invested Jimmy Feyton, adding another voice to the "Grand Howl," and a fine new Cub to the Circle. Ted Furler proudly received his "Toy maker" badge.

After registration cards had been distributed and the routine business of fees and inspection concluded, a period of instruction was begun and the den seethed with activity of all sorts. Knots were tied and re-tied, the Union Jack's composition studied and re-studied, the pack's alarm clock's hands were turned to this time and that time, and backward skipping tried, missed, and tried again. During this period the 1st Star "Time" test was passed by Frank Malt, Ross Fyett, Bruce Nelson, Byron England and Jimmy Feyton. Then came the big hunt, not to darkest Africa but to what wonderful game lurked right in the

RAINY DAY INSURANCE

By ALICE ALDEN

LET IT rain, let it rain, for it gives a gal a chance to don a handsome raincoat and laugh at the weather! Sherbrooke does a beauty in a new and exciting iridescent rayon fabric and gives it smart stitching at the collar, cuffs, belt and pockets. The two-way helmet hood is worthy of the good lines and deft detail of the coat which comes in aqua and copper.

WHERE WAS BURYING GROUND LOCATED

Just exactly where was Grimsby's first burying ground located? It is known to have been on the west side of The Forty, near the lake. Who will come forward and point out the exact spot.

So far, the whereabouts of only two headstones from this early burying ground are known. It is surmised that others may be built into old foundation walls or stored in ancient barns.

Look around! If you can spot anything that looks like an old tombstone, get in touch at once with Mrs. R. J. Fowell, phone 207; M. B. Neilsen, phone 117, or The Independent, phone 36.

The names of two persons buried in this first burial plot were brought to the attention of the Executive of the Grimsby Historical Society at their last meeting. They are John Solomon Teetzel and David Hagar. This brings the known number of burials up to five, but that there were many more is certain. Teetzel was a stone-cutter and there still remain many examples of his handiwork in graveyards around the Head of the Lake. His inscriptions were exquisitely done.

Have YOU any old documents, or any information, that will throw light on Grimsby's early history? Let the Historical Society know about it. They will be glad to take notes for incorporation in booklets which it is planned to print from time to time.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER

by Evelyn Budge

One of the most interesting demonstrations at the Girls' Conference at MacDonald Institute, Guelph, a few years ago, was the making of "Baking Powder Biscuits" and several variations. Here is the basic recipe they gave us for baking powder biscuits.

2 cups all purpose flour, 4 tbsps. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt, two-thirds of a cup milk, 4 to 5 tbsps. fat.

Assemble utensils and ingredients needed. Dust the baking sheet with flour. Have oven temperature at 425 degrees Fah. Measure and mix the flour, baking powder and salt. Sift them into the mixing bowl.

Measure fat and put it into the dry ingredients. Combine sifted dry ingredients and fat by rubbing them together between the fingers if solid, or with pastry blender or fork or two knives. Combine until the mixture has consistency of cornmeal. Then add the milk gradually mixing well. Turn the dough out on a slightly floured board. Without delay, knead it vigorously for about twenty seconds. Roll and prepare for baking. Shape the dough into a ball. Then pat with the hand. Cut with a floured cutter. Place on a floured baking sheet close together or a half an inch apart. Bake in hot oven for about twelve minutes or until crust is an even brown and the inside is light, flaky, and dry. Now here are the variations:—

1. Sweet—Add 2 tbsps. sugar to dry ingredients.

2. Cheese—Add 1/4 cup grated cheese before adding the liquid. Decrease the fat 2 tbsps.

3. Fruit—Add currants, raisins, or cut peel to the dry ingredients, 2 to 3 tbsps. to 1 cup flour.

4. Tomato Biscuits — Tomato juice may be added instead of milk using enough to make a soft dough.

Orange—Add 2 tbsps. sugar and 2 tbsps. finely cut orange peel to the dry ingredients. Press in the top of each biscuit a piece of loaf sugar which has been soaked in orange juice. Orange peel may be omitted and 1/4 tsp. orange marmalade placed in a depression in the top of the biscuit.

Emergency Drop Biscuits—Use more liquid. Drop into greased muffin tins, or drop from a spoon onto a baking sheet.

7. Different flours may be used.

For part of the flour.—Graham, Whole Wheat, etc.

8. Scones—Roll the dough to 1/4 inch in thickness. Shape into rounds, triangles, etc. Bake on a heavy griddle, turning so that both sides are cooked to a delicate brown, or put in a pie plate. Cut in wedge shaped pieces like a pie and bake.

9. Butterscotch Biscuits. — Roll the dough to 1/4 inch thick. Spread with melted butter and brown sugar and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut in one inch pieces. Put melted butter and brown sugar in the bottom of a pan. Place the slices of dough close together on the sugar and butter mixture, cut side up. Bake and serve with butterscotch side up.

10. Butterscotch Nut Biscuits.— Follow the rule for Butterscotch Biscuits. Before putting the biscuits in the pan, sprinkle the butter and sugar mixture with chopped nut meats.

11. Pinwheel or Fruit Rolls.— Roll biscuit dough 1/4 inch thick. Brush over with butter and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon or fruit. Roll up like a jelly roll. Cut off pieces 1/4 of an inch thick. Bake.

12. Shortcake. Place dough 1/4 of an inch thick on two pie plates. Bake, or have the dough thicker and when baked, split with a fork and spread with butter. Spread prepared fruit between the layers and on top. Cover with whipped cream. For individual shortcakes, shape as for baking powder biscuits.

Fruit suggestions—Apple Sauce, slices of bananas sprinkled with sugar and lemon juice, strawberries slightly crushed and sweetened. Keep some whole berries or the top. Raspberries. Prepare as for strawberries, peaches,—canned or fresh. Prunes,—sweetened pulped prunes put between layers and on top and serve with lemon sauce.

Dutch Apple Cake.— Put the dough in a cake pan. Before baking, spread the top with butter and a mixture of sugar and cinnamon if desired. Stick into the dough, wedges of apples and then bake.

MEMORIAL ORGAN DEDICATED IN THE FIFTY UNITED CHURCH

(By Islay Wickham)

The strains of sacred music from the beautiful new Memorial Organ sounded on Remembrance Sunday, Nov. 8th, as over four hundred worshippers assembled in the Fifty United Church at Winona to witness the dedication of Memorial Chimes, the Memorial Organ and Memorial Plaque to those of the congregation who lost their lives in World Wars I and II.

Officiating in the combined ceremonies were Rev. G. E. Morrow, Minister of the Fifty United Church, assisted by Rev. John Mutch, D. D., President of the Hamilton Conference and Minister of Melrose United Church, a former minister of the Fifty Church during World War I, also Rev. W. S. Daniels, D.D., of Hamilton.

There was a quiet dignity to the colour that began the ceremonies in the chrysanthemum decorated church, as the Winona Branch of the Canadian Legion with the Winona Boy Scout Troop entered and placed their colours in front of the communion table decorated simply with huge white chrysanthemums.

There must have been gladness in the hearts of the congregation, and pride, too, as they joined the choir in the singing of "Holy, Holy, Holy." Pride in the newly decorated church they have worked toward, in the finely paneled choir loft, the richness of the newly carpeted aisles and pulpit, and the everlasting memorial they were dedicating to their war dead. This feeling was expressed by Rev. G. E. Morrow in his opening address.

"This is the day we have all been looking forward to for a long time; a day made possible through the efforts and prayers and gifts of members and friends of the congregation ever since the cessation of hostilities. We wanted to have a lasting memorial to those of the congregation who made the supreme sacrifice in World War I and World War II. It was felt that the best way to do it, the way the boys themselves would have it, was through the installation of an organ which would add dignity and beauty to the services of worship in the church they loved. It would send forth melodies that would open the gates of heaven forever afterwards. In a very real sense it is true of them that they being dead yet speak. The organ will remind us of the things they loved, how they loved music; they also loved truth, goodness and beauty; these were the things they lived for; yes, verily the things they died for. With this in mind, I ask you to stand for the dedication of the Memorial Organ."

The organ was dedicated with the words, by Rev. G. E. Morrow, "In faith of Jesus Christ we dedicate this instrument of music to the glory of God and in loving memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War I and World War II."

The dedication of the Memorial Chimes followed by Rev. W. S. Daniels, D.D., who spoke briefly and simply. He revealed that the chimes were a gift of Rev. C. A. and Mrs. Bridgman, their daughters Jean and Betty in loving memory of their son and brother, Donald Charles Bridgman who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War II. He then quoted a moving poem written by Rev. C. A. Bridgman in memory of his son, Flying Officer Donald Bridgman.

"Little you know
Who say that 'he is dead.'
Why can't you understand
That he has only taken leave—
Gone on a further, higher flight
Beyond the limitations of this earth

Or flesh, or any bound
Of space and time.
And with the deathless ones
Of every time and place,
In active service
With that glorious throng,
Who leave all sordid things behind,
And go to meet the dawn."

His words in the silence of the church were eloquent, and very fitting to the memories of all those killed in all wars. He ended with a prayer, "may these ever ring in the melodies and harmonies of lasting peace to drown the echoes of bursting shells and roaring guns, and may the singing of worshipers everywhere prepare to join in the hymns, hallelujah choruses of eternity."

Dedication and unveiling of the Memorial Plaque followed immediately, when Mrs. Thomas Cottingham and Mrs. Harry Walters lowered the Union Jack from the bronze tablet, and Rev. W. S. Daniels read the names thereon. The Plaque itself, in place behind the organ read:—

This organ is dedicated to the glory of God and in loving memory of the men of this church who gave their lives in two world wars

1939 - 1945

Donald C. Bridgman

Wreaths were placed by J. A. Bigger on behalf of the Winona Branch of the Canadian Legion, and Honore Cocks for the Boy Scouts.

The Last Post was sounded by a Bugler from the R. N. L. I. (W. R.), two minutes silence was observed by all, ended by the clear notes of Reveille.

Rev. John Mutch, then presented his sermon, of such suitability to the day of Remembrance that it will undoubtedly be remembered by all who heard the address. He spoke dramatically of the great pride those who have lost loved ones in the war should feel "that they gave their lives on the altar of freedom." His son, he revealed, had died in Egypt on active service, but he stated to know his son had taken part and lived to help throw back the forces of Hitler at El Alamein. "Those who say that war accomplished nothing, walk in the course of the ungodly," said Rev. Mutch, "even though precious aspirations were lost, evil followed, bringing disillusionments. These young men and women saved the world from the Nazi beast, from dominance and paganism the only way they could, with their lives." That we must carry on the fight they began, was made clear by the speaker, quoting John McCrae's poem, "In Flanders Field," for the inspiration needed, ended by asking all those who listened to "go out into the world and play the man."

The brilliant sermon was brought to a close with the quotation of a poem by the father of a boy killed during the war, and printed in Punch. "Courage and fortitude are lovely words. And lovely are the virtues they define. Yours was the courage, laughing soldiers, May the fortitude be mine."

The congregation joined in a hymn, and with the retiring of the Legion and Boy Scout Troop the beautiful ceremony of dedication was over. The ceremony was ended, but the loving memory of the congregation will forever live in the music of their Memorial to those who "joined that glorious throng, and leave all sordid things behind, and go to meet the dawn."

GRIMSBY LION MEMBER ADDRESSES MEN'S CLUB

P. V. Smith of Grimsby, past District Governor of the Lions Club, was guest speaker at the November meeting of the Winona Men's Club, held Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, at Winona Legion Hall. Presented by Albert Pappasian, the speaker gave an interesting talk on the objects and aims of the Lions Clubs, stressing the fact that an international organization had more power and influence for welfare and peace.

Mr. Earl J. Marsh, President of the Grimsby Lions Club also spoke at the meeting, to which many visiting members of that Club of Grimsby were present. He outlined the work done by the club in Grimsby, and extended an invitation to join the Lions Club.

The past President, Douglas Watson, was in the chair, and turned over officially the gavel to the incoming President, Roy Bailey, who introduced his elected officers, and chairman of Committee.

The Treasurer's report was given by Lesie Braddy; Keith C. Millikin, representing the Finance Committee outlined the program for raising money for the club; Albert Pappasian for the Program Committee reported on the program stating that the Men's Club will entertain the Optimist Club of Grimsby at the next meeting, to be held in December; Fred Lintack outlined for the Boys and Girls Welfare Committee his program; James Henderson, in giving the report for the Athletic Committee pointed out that Winona was entering a Midget and Juvenile Hockey Team in their respective leagues; Robert Bennett reported for the Attendance and Membership Committee, outlining means of obtaining new members, and better attendance at future meetings; Harvey Walker spoke on behalf of the Civic Improvement Committee, bringing to a close reports from members.

Community singing was enjoyed by the Club, led by Harold Jarvis with Ken Baxter at the piano. Herman Jones and Jack Ansell from the Grimsby Lions Club entertained with solos.

OFFICIAL RETIRES

It was announced after a meeting of the Board last week, that after being in office twenty eight years, J. B. VanDuser had tendered his resignation, recording steward of the F. W. United Church and the Fruitland circuit. Due to a serious illness, he requested the board to relieve him of his duties. It was with great reluctance that the Board accepted Mr. VanDuser's resignation, and erected a vote of thanks for many years of service he had given. Gordon Dean of Fruitland, has been appointed to the post, Mr. Ansell being also Secty of the W. F. United Church at Fruitland.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

A meeting of the Winona Gospel Church W. M. S. was held last week, with the annual election of officers taking place. Elected were President, Mrs. Reid Smith; Vice-President, Mrs. James Cunningham; Secty Treasurer, Mrs. Harold Smith; Convener, Mrs. Edgar Long; Assistant Convener, Mrs. Leas; Refreshment Committee, Mrs. Nell Miller, Mrs. Muir McLaren, Miss Winnifred Miller.

ORGAN RECITAL

The Fifty United Church was crowded on Sunday evening with many lovers of music when an organ recital was presented, introducing the beautiful new Memorial Organ dedicated that afternoon. Organists were Miss Florence Clark of Hamilton, Lic. Mus. Tor.; Mrs. Mac, P. C. C. O. and Mrs. S. W. M. Hardwick of Beamsville. Miss Clark's repertoire was enthusiastically received by all, for her rendition of sacred music from such well known composers as Bach, Handel, and Palestrina. The lovely composition, "Prelude and Fugue in C Major" by Bach was ably executed in its haunting sweetness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. M. Hardwick of Beamsville each presented a beautiful selection of music, including, "The Good Shepherd," by Van de Water, Mosenthal's "I Will Magnify Thee," and "Hambelin's 'Grant Us Thy Peace.'"

The evening marked the end of an important day for the Fifty Church, the well filled pews testifying to the success of the Recital.

ENJOY PHEASANT DAYS FEW TRIGGER-HAPPY

Pheasant shooting in the Saltfleet area was reported to be good. On the open days of November 4th and 5th, a record number of hunters poured into the township to try their luck. That there were more hunters than ever before was apparent, and that there were more birds and finer ones was also true. G. Morton Found, President of the Saltfleet Wildlife Club stated that the days were a "good shoot" and that in his opinion next year would be even better. "The Wildlife Club," he said, "are pointing their arrow to a star. We hope to have thousands of birds released next year, and will do everything we can to make it so. We have, been promised more money for next year, more licenses have been sold than ever before, and there is no reason why we should not look forward to a better shooting season ahead."

There were those who were disappointed, but there were more hunters than birds out, a situation that will be remedied next year if Mr. Found's prediction is realized.

There were many complaints from farmers who reported a loss of valuable chickens and hens. Mr. Found's comment on this was that "we can teach conservation. We can preach it, but we can't force it. We intend to go on teaching, preaching, and practicing also."

Interested in what the farmers thought of the chicken killing by trigger-happy hunters, your reporter found the feeling of most summed up by one well known farmer. Asked if he had enjoyed Pheasant Day, he stated with hearty feeling, "If I ever get my hands on those :$0???: so-and-so's that shot two of my best laying chickens, I'll :$!:(&—)" show them some shooting!

However, despite such incidents, which draws the ire of every sportsman, the day was a good one and apparently enjoyed by many who took home a fine showing of birds.

COMING EVENTS

The Y. F. S. of the Fifty United Church will meet at the Sunday School Room on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

On November 11th, there will be a parade of the Winona Branch Canadian Legion to the Memorial where a service will be held, as well as the placing of wreaths.

November 14th, Monday, is the night scheduled for Open House to Parents and friends, at Winona School. An interesting program has been arranged with Mrs. O. M. Bartman of Hamilton as speaker, her subject, "To-day's Children — To-morrow."

Following the Anniversary services on Sunday, the Women's Association will serve their Anniversary Supper on Monday evening, at the Sunday School at 6.30 p.m. The supper is scheduled to be a big affair, and a good one. Those who have attended in past years can look forward to "something special" this year on the 130th Anniversary of their church. A program has been arranged that needs no explanation, as there will be a recital by Ruby Ramsey Rouse, Staff Organist of Radio Station C F R B, Toronto.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

A Great Sports Editor

I am the most tickled Sports Writer in the whole Niagara Peninsula, if not the whole Province of Ontario. Why? Because away back in 1939 I told Dave Pinkney, "Mr. Hockey and other sports of Stratford knew that better than I did for Dave Pinkney is the most humanitarian man in Perth County, particularly where the kids are concerned."

The man I am talking about now was one of Dave Pinkney's kids, right out of the Town of St. Mary's. The boy never had a bed of roses, neither did his sister, but they had "something" and they used that "something." Dave Pinkney saw that "something" and as they came up in life, Mr. Dingman and his City Editor Tommy Dolan of the Stratford Beacon-Herald saw it with the result that the boy became a correspondent for the paper from St. Mary's and later taken on the Beacon-Herald staff as a reporter and eventually as Sports Editor. His sister was also taken on the Beacon-Herald staff in later years as a society reporter.

I now speak of MILT DUNNELL, the new Sports Editor of The Toronto Star. A boy that has had a hard row to hoe, but he heed it and he is going far. The management of The Star are to be congratulated that they had wisdom enough to appoint Milt to the Sports Editor's Chair, because he will be the first man that ever was capable of filling it since the demise of the late Lou Marsh. Good Luck to you, Milt, and if you want anything you know where this Old Scribe sits (How's the Pidgeon?). Boy I'll get a lot of questions asked me about that wisecrack.

I'M SICK, SORE AND TIRED. Sportsmanship is sportsmanship. You win, you are happy. You lose, you are still happy because there will be another day to win over the opponent that you had just lost to. That is sportsmanship. We have in the Town of Grimsby a man who is not a Sportsman. When he wins he would blow the top off the town, even though there was a very small minority of people in the Town and District that knew anything about what sporting event he was connected with. All this imaginary sportsman has ever done for sport in Grimsby has been to ruin it with his "blabber mouth." Of all the years he has lived in Grimsby he has never put an actual dollar behind sport. He does not even pay taxes in the town. Now all I've got to say is that "Mr. No-Sport" you sit down and mind your own business and do not be making bets, that you never had any intention of paying, and leave the men that are trying to give this town and district real sport ALONE. Otherwise I'll come out and publish names.

PEACH SKINS AND PEACH PITE. Isn't it great to live in a town where men and women, married and unmarried, take their recreation in stride and together and there is no moral issue. That is GRIMSBY. The Peach Queens Bowling League are setting up records already this season and so is the Men's League. LIMBY has already had many a shock with the scores that have been hung up (none of them by GAS RAHN.) in both leagues. The boys and the girls are sure going to town. Where I get my kick is from the fact that the men in the Men's League take so much pride in the achievements of the ladies in the PEACH QUEENS' LEAGUE. Well, they should. If it wasn't for the ladies, in sport or otherwise, where would the poor old man be. Take myself for instance. "Nuff Sed. . . They do tell me that my little boy from the Georgian Bay country is going to produce something for the Peach Kings. Well, being a great Peach King himself I am not surprised. I am leaving all this hockey stuff in "SPORT" and I can absolutely certify that what he writes in "SPORT" is positively correct. Anything that "High" writes in "SPORT" is the new Peach King's coach I will back up. I think we have a worthy successor to Old Pop McVicar. I will give you the history of this "Flash From the Blue Waters of the Georgian," one of these days and it will knock a lot of you people off your push cushions. Here's to another CHAMPIONSHIP.

TRUE LIFE ROMANCE IN STRATTON STORY

The gallant story of one of the most courageous figures in the world of sport is unfolded on the RKO screen on Monday, November 14th, in "The Stratton Story." M.G.M.'s new film based on the spectacular and dramatic career of Monty Stratton, who came from the mudluts of Texas to win fame as a pitching star with the Chicago White Sox. While back-grounded with the thrills of big league ball park scenes, the sports angle of narrative is subservient to the true-to-life story of Monty Stratton who, after two seasons that put him on the verge of all-time greatness, suffered a hunting accident that caused the amputation of his right leg. How he came back, eight years later in the game back, and to be named the "Most Courageous Athlete of the Year" in 1944, makes for a story that will leave few onlookers untouched. Under the direction of Sam Wood, the film story of Monty Stratton is told with naturalness, warmth and a sustaining dramatic pace. James Stewart as Monty Stratton has one of his most colorful roles to-date and has able support from June Allyson as his wife, who after the accident re-awakens his interest in life and in the game he loves and who gives him renewed hope for the future. Sports followers will find "The Stratton Story" superlative entertainment.

KEN WARNER TO HEAD FRUIT BELT LEAGUE

Beamsville is back in the Fruit Belt League, and Bimbrook, last winter's weak sister, has been dropped thus keeping the league at its customary six teams. Representatives from most of the six centres were represented at a meeting held last Friday night, when considerable business was brought up, including the posting of new officers. Ken Warner, a long time affiliate with the league was named as its new President with Hank Hill named as Vice President, and Red Mason Secretary Treasurer. One important item that was brought up was the matter of referees, and in this department the league agreed on two Grimsby boys, Norm Warner and Red Mason.

A second meeting will be held Sunday afternoon at the home of Tom Collins, Winona, at 2 o'clock (standard time).

CLEVER AND PERFECT

A preposterous swindle that took place in Paris in the 1930's was made possible only by the meeting of a clever forger, Vrain Lucas, and a perfect sucker, Michel Charles, a famous mathematician and member of the French Academy of Sciences. When Lucas told Charles that he owned and was willing to sell letters written by any historical personage, Charles began to order, and Lucas began to forge them, at the rate of 53 a week. Before being exposed, he had produced 27,340 of these notes for the gullible Charles and had been paid $30,000 for them, despite the fact that they were written in excellent French on modern French stationery. Among the lot were supposed letters from Alexander the Great to Aristotle, the resurrected Lazarus to St. Peter, a Galilean physician to Jesus Christ, and Judas Iscariot to Mary Magdalene.

Peninsula literally means "almost an island."

LARGE MIGRATION

Probably no mammal ever migrated in larger herds than the springbok, a small South African antelope or gazelle 30 inches in height. One of the last and largest of these herds, seen in 1900, was estimated to cover an area 15 miles wide and 140 miles long, and to contain about 200 million animals.

Except for unforeseen difficulties, there is no doubt that 1949 motor car production will top everything, even last year's record 294,000 units, says The Financial Post. Latest figures show that at the end of May, despite shutdowns by General Motors and Chrysler for major changeover earlier in the year, production was 5,000 over last year's. At this accelerated pace, 1949 output should exceed

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning to Work With Copper and Brass

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of workers to become proficient in the art of shaping and moulding copper and brass, will mean greater industrial progress—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY (ONTARIO)

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy—that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

North American Football owes its life to a visiting Canadian University!

Canada's East-West
final for the Dominion
Football Championship and the Grey Cup began in 1921...
Toronto Argonauts defeating
Edmonton Eskimos 23-0.

It was 1874... McGill University were guest opponents of Harvard in Boston.
During the warm-up period, the Harvard team noticed to their amazement that McGill were kicking and carrying the ball.

The two captains got together and discovered they were playing different games.
McGill had come to play rugby, Harvard was ready for a soccer match. But the Harvard captain, with true Bostonian courtesy, offered to play McGill's game.
The result was the first "football" game ever played in the United States... ending in a scoreless tie.

Good sportsmanship has won many the spirit of working together has made

SPORTRAYAL

By "HIGH" McGREGOR

The wheels are grinding... very slowly for sure, but nevertheless grinding away, as several men go about the very difficult task of lining up the Peach King Hockey Club for 1949-50. Pop McVicar and Herb Jarvis are two guys who seem destined to figure out the hundred and one details it requires to get anywhere with the OHA, let alone sign a single player.

You might not believe it but these hockey players are a very strange lot, and super kid gloves are required to handle the guys who will finally line up on opening night for your inspection and criticism. Great goals of patience are not one of the necessary requisites these days prior to the opening of the season, and certainly you have really know just where you stand from one hour to the next.

As an instance, take the meeting on Sunday, when the Reps of all the Clubs got together for another look at the scene, and darned if the situation didn't boil down to just two teams left in the League. But when the Chairman brought the meeting to a close... again there were six teams.

Port Erie appears to be a real on-again - off-again - Flannigan seemingly changing their mind at least three or four times a week as to whether or not they will enter or sit home and watch the traffic crawl over the Peace Bridge.

One of the latest developments has Port Colborne playing in the Senior B League, but entered as an Intermediate A club. Port really have a tough chore on their hands getting players, what with Crowland grabbing up anything and everything within a twenty mile radius of Welland... or is it Crowland.

The best that we can do it appears, it let the powers that be gradually trim out the difficulties that precede every hockey season, and go ahead with the powerful Peach King team that is promised us by McVicar, Clarke, Jarvis and Miller.

Speaking of Johnny Miller, that boy has been leading some good stuff for the Kings, and certainly deserves a lot of credit for a thankless job. We sure hope he decides to stick with the Kings this season.

The tickets for the great Soccer Night are now on sale, and the idea is being well received from the many hundreds of hockey fans throughout the district. The ambitious guys of the Jays have got behind the scene and you can get your ticket from any one of the members.

The dollar you spend gains you admission to the first home game, plus two chances on a $50 bond. It's a pretty swell deal, and a chance for everyone to help the Kings get off to a good start.

We had quite a discussion the other day about whether or not a team of this size should try and maintain a team of such high calibre as those we have had the privilege of having the past few years. It's a fair question, and in our estimation can be answered simply by saying that if it were not for a good team like the Kings, a heck of a lot of young boys in this end of the County would be deprived of a place to play hockey.

ALL DRESSED UP TO GO PLACES

Goodwill delegate to the 14 of the Maria in New Zealand, 13-year-old David Smith of Hersville, Ont., is decked out in busi-ness dress to make the trip. vid who is going to visit an uncle in New Zealand, was appointed delegate by the Mohawk tribe of Oshweke and given a farewell ceremonial dance at the Ford plowing matches.

Sunday's practice saw some 26 aspirants to a Peach King uniform working out in Hamilton, with the trained eyes of McVicar, Clarke and Miller attempting to pick out players with apparent ability. With most of the men far from being in good condition... it's a pretty tough chore.

Three potential goalies took turns chopping sticks: Don Roach, formerly of Thorold, Art Woloszew, Peach King Sub goalie of last season, and Jerry Strong, protégé to Hamilton Tigers' Art Childs. A fourth goalie, who, we understand, is given the best chance of lining up with the Kings, remained on the boards for the Sunday workout.

Hutchinson and Ted Hoyle... might be a real goal-punching line if the trio stick together.

We could not possibly write finish to this column without mentioning the fact that Mush Miller was ramming around the ice in his usual wild and ebullient fashion. His partner in crime, Paul Reid, was also on hand. Billy Gluck and Jackie Hamilton were on defense for the scrimmage. Billy the Gluck appearing as effective as ever.

The team will work out again this Sunday, and it is likely that Coach Clarke will of necessity start cutting down.

Incidentally the Peach Kings will again be wearing blue and white.

MINOR HOCKEY IS DUE FOR A GREAT BOOST

Minor hockey is due for a boost this winter here in West Lincoln this being indicated last week, when a meeting was held to make preliminary plans for the formation of a midget and juvenile league to operate here.

Powers from Stoney Creek and Fruitland argued for a raising of the age limit to include boys of Junior age, and although the issue was left for another meeting, it is probable that boys not over sixteen will be given a chance to participate in organized hockey.

It is felt by president of the league, Eric Selby, that minor hockey for which this league was originally formed should not include boys of junior age. During the somewhat heated discussion, Selby pointed out that ice facilities had been arranged for last spring, for minor hockey expressly, and that is exactly what will be played in those hours now available through the co-operation of Mr. George Marr, arena manager. The meeting ended in a stalemate on this subject, and will be reheated again this week.

THE KETTLE FAMILY ARE BACK ON SCREEN

The Kettle Family introduced to the reading and movie-going public by "The Egg and I" returned to the screen in a sequel to that film "Ma and Pa Kettle" at the Roney on Wednesday, November 10th. Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride co-starred in the title roles. With two kids added to the breed, the Kettles have been pronounced the most fascinating exhibits of rural eccentricity. In this sequel to "The Egg," the Kettles find themselves suddenly elevated from equal to modern push-button type of living in a palatial electronic house of the future which Pa wins by submitting a slogan to a tobacco company. "Ma and Pa Kettle" has the same setting as "The Egg" and features the same ramshackle house, rickety wagon and even away-back donkey which delighted "Egg" audiences. The work of Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, in this, their third film together as a team, stamps the two veterans as worthy successors to Wallace Beery and the late Marie Dressler as a comedy pair, and augurs well for future teaming of the droll comers.

IT'S ALL OURS! "Not even Mommy or Daddy can use plates like these," exclaimed the youngsters shown here as they examined the new children's china sets that are now being introduced in dining car service of Canadian National Railway. Designed by the C.N.R., the sets are white and jolly yellow in color and decorated with figures of children and animals. To encourage the children to eat all their food, the pictures are on the inside bottoms of the plates. A set includes a fruit saucer, bread plate, soup bowl, baby's deep plate, mug, spoon and a dinner plate. With each set there is a special baby bib and children's menu.

METER OPPONENTS
The matter would have to be left in abeyance for a few months. In conversation with the Mayor, The Independent was informed that parking meters definitely would not be installed until such time as some measure of widening Main street had been worked out and that this would not happen before next spring at the earliest.

Wholly owned subsidiaries are: Cannery Seeds Ltd., Pembroke Shook Mills Ltd., Cannery Machinery Ltd., Wagstaffe Ltd., and Canadian Cannery (Western) Ltd.

DECORATION DAY
to Grimsby an impressive memorial service was held in the Rotary Theatre. At this service, Mrs. Ernest Buckingham, Regent of Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, I.O.D.E., presented Reeve A. C. Price on behalf of the Town of Grimsby and Deputy Reeve Sam Barlett, two scrolls containing names of all the men and women who served in His Majesty's forces in the war of 1914-18 and the war of 1939-45. The municipal representative then presented the scrolls to Harold B. Mitchell, Chairman of the Public Library Board to be placed in the library where they can be seen by the general public at all times.

The Roll of Honour of those who passed away is as follows:
Killed in Action or Died of Wounds Overseas.

CONSIDERING OPEN
from the water, was one of the few this season. Farmers in the area above the Niagara escarpment tell of seeing numerous deer. They say they do little damage to their crops, and the majority of farmers are not anxious to have an open season. They say that they prefer the pleasure of seeing the timid, graceful animals bringing their fawns out of the woods and teaching them to clear the farmers' fences in a quick getaway.

Provincial police report that a doe was killed on the highway near Grimsby three weeks ago. Mr. Arbutnot said that if Calator decides to hold an open season, special deer licenses will be issued to a limited number of resident farmers and non-residents of the municipality.

his wife, Mary Glover Sweet. At the age of six years, Mr. Sweet moved to North Grimsby and attended school near Beamsville. He spent his entire lifetime working on dairy and fruit farms in the Niagara Peninsula. During his farming career he suffered three strokes and severe injuries to his back.

Mr. Sweet is a member of Kitchener Street United Church. He has held membership in Grimsby Orange Lodge since 1900.

He has five sons and one daughter, Charles and Frank Sweet of Beamsville; Isaac Sweet of St.

Paul, Minn.; Murray Sweet of Washington, D.C.; Rev. Angus Sweet of Saskatchewan; and Mrs. Anderson, with whom he resides. He has five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Sweet is an uncle of Mrs. C. R. Terryberry, Mrs. Roy Duprey, and John and George Sweet, all of Grimsby.

JAYCEES HEAR FINE
The booster tickets actually cost fifty cents for admission purposes, and the additional fifty on the draw. The fifty cent stub for admission will be treated as cash, and holders of season's tickets may apply a booster stub to their reserved seat for the opening game only.

President James O'Brien urged all members to get behind the sale of tickets, and it was the general feeling of the Jaycees that the Peach Kings are a great asset to the town, and as such deserve the support of the Junior Chamber as well as the support of the citizens of Grimsby.

Final plans were made for the Frosty Frolic Dance which is going on as scheduled in the Oak Room of the Village Inn, Friday, November 11.

President O'Brien stated that although several factions had backed the venture since it was announced, the Jaycees felt that Grimsby could well afford dances of the high standard being promoted by the Jaycees. He further stated that the Village Inn would undoubtedly be a more appropriate place for this dance, and in view of the fact that the admission price was not increased after use of the school auditorium was cancelled by the Board of Education, it shows that the Jaycees are attempting, despite pressure, to give the people of Grimsby dances at a very moderate rate.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Walter Morris, principal of the Park School, Grimsby Beach. Mr. Morris spent the past summer in England, and was there when the present economic crisis arose. Introduced by Dr. Don Copeland, the speaker clearly blamed the present Labor Government for the state of affairs in England today.

"In the 1945 election, which was won by the Labor Government by a landslide, no one was more surprised than the Labor Government," stated the speaker. "They were so surprised, that it was not until after the election, that Clement Atlee was named Prime Minister."

Mr. Morris went on to say, that immediately after the Labor Government's victory, Lord Leese was stopped overnight, and the great American supply system was cut off. All of this has an important bearing on England's present grave economic situation.

The speaker deplored the action of "somebody in Ottawa" whereby Canada issued a note for a million dollars to England, and then cancelled the note, leaving it a direct donation. Mr. Morris said that this fact was not known either in England or Canada to any great extent, and expressed regret for such an action.

"If there is anything Canada needs in England, it's publicity," stated the speaker.

HOLLYWOOD AND BRICKLAYING

(By Louis Milligan)

A friend who had just returned from a motor tour in the United States told me of a "funny" incident he had seen during his visit to Hollywood. It seems that part of a motion picture was being staged on one side of a street, and the cameras and lights had to be set up on the opposite sidewalk.

Electric cables were laid loosely across the surface of the street pavement, along which motor traffic was passing to and fro. The director of the picture, fearing that the current might be affected by the constant jar of the traffic, suggested that the carpenters, who were standing near by, should lay planks on either side of the cable.

After some consultation, the carpenters decided that, according to union rules, it was not their job to lay the planks, that was the property-men's job. So the shooting of the picture had to be held up until the property men were brought and the planks duly laid in position. But, with the jarring of the traffic, the planks were jostled out of position, and the director suggested that they might be secured by a few spikes.

The property men however, said that spike-driving was a carpenter's job. As the carpenters had disappeared in the meantime, they had to be brought back, and after considerable delay the shooting of the picture proceeded. It is a pity that this little incident was not included in the picture, as it might have provided a comic interlude. But my friend says that such incidents are quite common at Hollywood, and that the above example of strict union rules for studio employees is not as ridiculous as some others that occur in the process of making a picture. The idea, of course, is to spread out the work and provide employment for as many people as possible, even though it means that for the most part the "specialists" are standing around idle.

But such examples of inflexible union rules are not confined to the motion picture industry. In his chatty weekly column in the Orillia Packet, Mr. J. R. Hale, referring to a retired local bricklayer, writes:

Things have changed since Mr. Leonard Walmsley was active in his trade. He is now over eighty. In his day he, or any other good bricklayer would lay 1200 bricks a day. He would think there was something wrong if he laid any less. Today in Toronto a bricklayer, I am told lays 250 bricks. Five times 250 is 1250. In other words, a bricklayer today takes 5 days to do a day's work. For the five days in Toronto he gets $75, which is quite a good sum. It is not any wonder that building costs a lot these days. Other trades are more or less similar."

I showed a clipping of the above to a Toronto architect and asked him what he thought about it. He said the figures were not quite correct, but he added: "It's a wonder to me that there is any brick-building in these days. A union man will lay around 400 bricks a day. This means that, with his helper, cost of materials—brick, mortar, etc.—you can't build a brick house for less than 10 cents a brick. It is not that they cannot lay more bricks; for know of cases where bricklayers have taken on jobs by private contract after hours, when they will be bricks far above the prescribed union limit."

Bricklaying, of course, is seasonal work, and it is only right and fair that it should be paid high wages in order to make up for the slack or no-work periods. But, at least, they might render a good day's worker a good day's pay, and thus go on with the job of providing reasonably-priced homes for themselves, and all other workers. If the was no shortage of housing the might be some excuse for going slowly, but the principle of doing it wrong as applied to arbor or occupation, and its effect upon any able-bodied worker not be otherwise than degrading there is no finer feeling at the end of a day's work than that some one good, honest job.
